DEDICATION

Ronald B. Mack, M.D.

Anyone who believes that Renaissance men do not exist today obviously has not met Ronald Mack, M.D. A physician, an author, a scholar, and a teacher, Dr. Mack is a man admired for his dedication and hard work. He is loved by his students for his captivating sense of humor. His greatest talent, however, is the ability to take otherwise dry material and bring it to life so that learning becomes easy and pleasurable.

Dr. Mack has strong roots in his home state of Illinois. After spending his younger days in Chicago, he entered the Navy and served as a Pharmacist's Mate Third Class. He later returned to Chicago and earned his B.S. and M.D. from Loyola University, graduating in 1957. Internship at Cook County hospital and residency in Pediatrics at Loyola followed.

In 1957, Dr. Mack entered private practice. He did some moonlighting during this time, but not at the local Emergency room. (Good positions were hard to find!) Rather, he served as the Pediatric Consultant for Primates at the Brookfield Zoo. From 1972 to 1975, Dr. Mack served as the Academic Director and Chairman of the Division of Pediatrics of MacNeal Memorial Hospital in Berwyn, Illinois. Also during these years Dr. Mack and his wife Marcia were raising their four children.

In 1975, Dr. Mack came to Winston-Salem. He worked with the Physician Assistant training program for a year and a half. Then he assumed his present position with Bowman Gray, teaching at Reynold's Health Center. It is there that he flourishes making the mundane fascinating for us, his students. He comes in contact with every student who goes through Bowman Gray, guiding us through pediatric evaluation and diagnosis, as well as teaching us to assume nothing.

In addition to his work in Pediatrics, Dr. Mack pursues a strong interest in toxicology. This interest combines with a flair for writing, and a knowledge of history, the arts, and literature. The end product of this is a series of articles on poisoning and drug abuse which are both informative and entertaining. These are published regularly in the North Carolina Medical Journal and Contemporary Pediatrics.

Dr. Mack's activities extend beyond the borders of Winston-Salem. He is one of six members of the Committee of Accident and Poison Prevention of the American Academy of Pediatrics. He is the Chairman of the N.C. Medical Society's Committee on Drug Abuse and Pharmacy, as well as Chairman of the Committee on Accidents and Childhood Poisoning of the N.C. Chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics. He is also involved with the American Association of Poison Control Centers, and is a reviewer for Pediatrics.

Dr. Mack has received numerous honors in the past, including the Clinical Teaching Excellence Award given by the medical students and the Teacher of the Year Award given by the P.A. students. The Class of 1986 is proud to add to those laurels the dedication of the year's edition of the Gray Matter. We salute you.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

Richard Janeway M.D.

Richard Janeway, M.D., has served as Dean of the Bowman Gray School of Medicine of Wake Forest University for the last 14 years. Under Dr. Janeway's leadership, the school's faculty has more than doubled in number, research grants have increased dramatically, and the school has achieved a national reputation for excellence. In the preceding 1985-86 academic year, Dr. Janeway was named Executive Dean and Chief Executive Officer of the medical school. Dr. Fairfield Goodale subsequently assumed the position of Dean.

Dr. Janeway, a native of California, holds an A.B. degree from Colgate University and an M.D. degree from the University of Pennsylvania, where he also did his internship. Following military service, Dr. Janeway came to Bowman Gray as a National Institute of Health trainee, and completed his residency in neurology in 1966. Dr. Janeway was named the Markle Scholar for the years 1968 to 1972. During this time he progressed from assistant professor to full professor in neurology. In 1971 Dr. Janeway succeeded Dr. Manson Meads as Dean of the medical school.

Dr. Janeway is active on a national level in planning and improving health care delivery and medical education. He continues to be heavily involved with the AAMC, having served as Chairman of that body from 1984 to 1985.

Since 1983, Dr. Janeway has been Vice President for Health Affairs for Wake Forest University. In this capacity and as Executive Dean, Dr. Janeway's leadership will still be felt as he guides this institution and keeps it on the cutting edge of medical practice. We, the students of Bowman Gray, offer our thanks, our appreciation, and our respect for a job well done.

SENIOR RETROSPECTIVE

The Early Years

Looking back, it seems like only yesterday when we set foot upon the path that led us to Bowman Gray. Pause with us as we try to recapture some of those memories common to us all. These were times mixed with hope, anxiety, joy and challenge.

For some, interest in medicine came at an early age, often through a parent involved in the field.

Medical school is quite expensive, so more than one individual sought creative means to finance his education.

The aspiring young practitioner took great delight in receiving his first stethoscope for Christmas. He auscultated everything in sight.

Many long hours spent in science labs provided the discipline later needed in learning medicine.

Getting In

The interview was a very anxiety-producing situation.

Would it help if I got on my knees?

The acceptance letter was a cause for great celebration.

Bowman Gray chose students from a wide variety of geographic locations.

Every class has its gunners.

First Year

Everybody who's anybody ate at the R. & T.

Studying became a social outlet.

Many good friendships developed.

Only the true gunners came to Gross Lab on Friday night.

Go for it.

HIYYYYEEEEEEEEEE!!!!!!

Competitive? Who, US???

First Year

So John, you didn't read the lab.

Well let me explain it to you.

John? John? Hang in there John.

The first annual talent show.

Summer of '83 — Turn 180° and continue.

Second Year

Feb. 8/11:00/Wed

Dr. censored

NS - John Hayes

Mental Subnormality

Dr. censored (otherwise known as the Doctor of Doze, the Secretary of Snooze, the Zenith of Z's, the Yeoman of Yawn, the Dealer of Drowsiness, and the King of Coma) packed an astounding volume of noninformation into his 57 minutes. I am not going to include everything he said in this rudimentary vestige of a lecture, but only those things that could possibly be misconstrued as being important.

The note service took its role in our education very seriously.

We met Dr. Skinner, the original Good 'Ole Boy.

Long Live Captain Note Service.

Despite Dr. Philp's diligent efforts, many aspects of physical diagnosis proved difficult to master.

Third Year Clerkships

Board scores are back.

Medicine Rounds — Looks like chest pain.

This article has the best differential.

The consummate surgeon is well-groomed as well as well-coiffed.

Oops — Late for Grand Rounds. We'll have to finish this later.

Third Year Clerkships

Late for Rounds!!!!!!

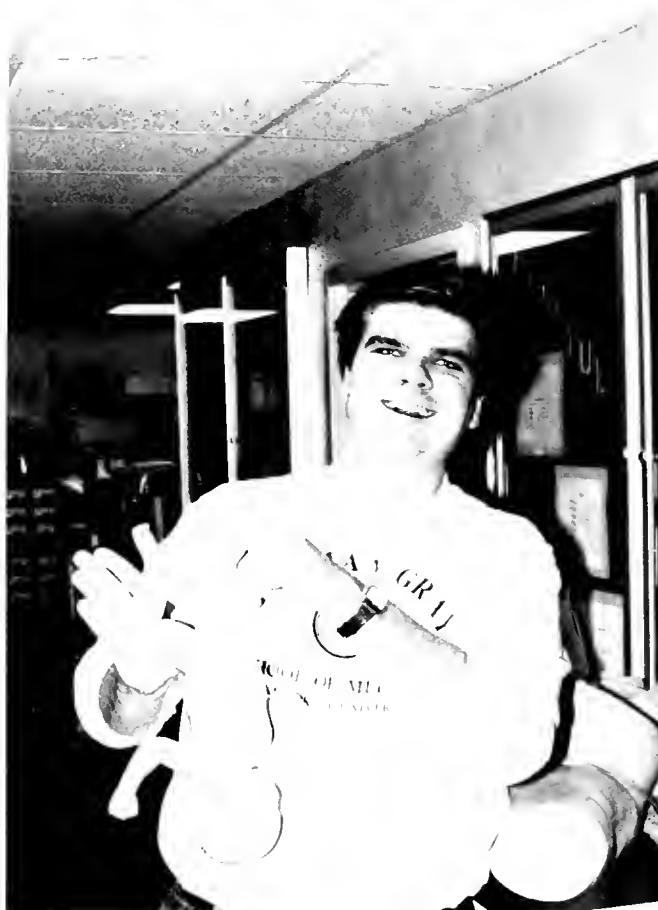

See Dr. Simon, I did do a growth chart.

We saw it all at Reynold's Health Center.

On Call — Late Night with Chris & Bill.

One's first delivery was a special moment.

Third Year Clerkships

This is how you do a Romberg.

Uh, Chris, are you sure you picked up the right tools?

Hello, Micro; please don't hang up this time.

Now before we talk about your stabbing chest pain, I want to give you three objects to remember.

Exploring a foreign body

So why did you go into medicine?

Did you say there's more food?

And you thought we'd leave these out!

Type B: The group of questions below consists of lettered choices followed by several numbered items. For each numbered item select the one lettered choice with which it is most closely associated. Each lettered choice may be used once, more than once, or not at all.

- (A) Festinating gait
- (B) Risus Sardonicus
- (C) Kyphosis
- (D) Exophthalmos
- (E) Asymmetric dystonia

Treatment of Lobar Pneumonia with Partially Autolyzed Pneumococci

IN THE Journal of the American Medical Association (pages 759 to 763 — March 16th, 1918) Dr. E. C. Rosenow has reported results in the treatment of lobar pneumonia with partially autolyzed pneumococci.

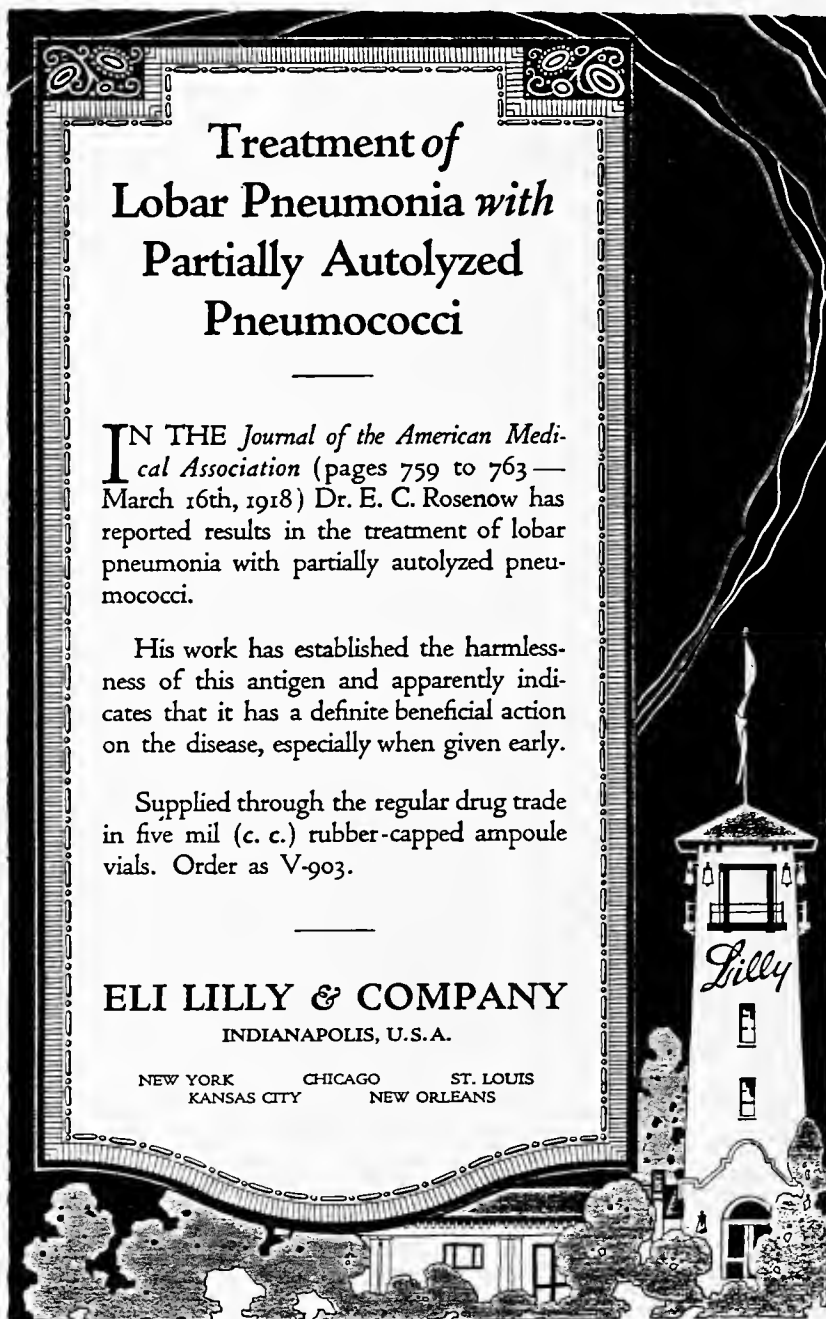

His work has established the harmlessness of this antigen and apparently indicates that it has a definite beneficial action on the disease, especially when given early.

Supplied through the regular drug trade in five mil (c. c.) rubber-capped ampoule vials. Order as V-903.

Why would anyone name a bank Wachovia?

When Moravian settlers first came to Piedmont North Carolina in 1752, the lush countryside reminded them of the Wachau Valley in Europe. So they named their tract of land "Wachau" or in English, "Wachovia."

One of the communities they established was Salem. And in 1879 the Bank of Salem moved to the thriving community of Winston. Under a new charter, they needed a new name. And like their ancestors who had named the land, the bankers chose the name Wachovia.

That small Wachovia office was the first of over 200 North Carolina offices statewide, each one a hometown bank in every respect.

And for over 100 years, we've been proving ourselves as unique as our name.

In this illustration from an original photograph dated 1889, three prominent businessmen of the town of Winston (Left to right: George Brooks, James A. Gray and R.J. Reynolds) pose by the entrance to Wachovia National Bank, which was then ten years old.

Tho' VALUABLE THE YEAR 'ROUND

Nupercainal IS PARTICULARLY USEFUL DURING THIS SEASON

This carefree miss may soon visit you in search of relief for a sun-scorched skin.

So will other distressed patients. Nupercainal, the analgesic and anesthetic ointment of sustained action, helps take the pain and fever out of sunburns.

Emollient and antipruritic, Nupercainal aids in preventing blisters and permits earlier healing.

Nupercainal serves nobly the year around to alleviate pain and itching in a number of skin and mucous membrane conditions.

You Where We Go. This One
Shows You Where We're From.*

Of all the places we fly to (and that's over 100 U.S. cities), our favorite destination is the one pictured here.

Home.

But you might know it better as North Carolina. (And if you don't, we can help you get better acquainted, since we're serving more of that state than any other airline.)

North Carolina and flying go back a long way. All the way to Kitty Hawk in 1903. North Carolina and Piedmont don't go back quite that far. Just to 1948.

It's beautiful country. And the people are hard working and friendly. (We should know; we employ about 8,300 North Carolinians.)

And we'll always be proud to say, "Nothin' could be finer than to be the airline from North Carolina."

MATCH DAY '86

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The compilation and publication of the 1986 Gray Matter involved far more people than just those recognized in the STAFF section. I would like to offer my thanks and appreciation to the following people for their help in making this year's edition of the yearbook a memorable volume:

Jack Dent, for his photography,

AV Services, for being organized and helpful in getting photos,

June May, for her support, good taste, and helping to tie loose ends together,

Tyler Cox, for helping us update old photos,

JoAnn Thomas, for going above and beyond whenever we needed her,

Hunter Publishing, for a great finished product,

Jimmy Simon, M.D., for giving me the facts about Dr. Mack,

Robert Prichard, M.D., for use of his medical art text,

George Limpert, M.D., for getting us off on the right foot,

and

The Class of 1986, for responding to memos, supplying photos, being creative, and creating a lot of good memories for us all.
